

IN HONOR OF ARCHER RAYMOND
MORGAN, JR.

HON. ELTON GALLEGLY

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, September 26, 2008

Mr. GALLEGLY. Madam Speaker, I rise in honor of Simi Valley Police Department Sergeant Archer Raymond Morgan, Jr., who will retire October 12 after 33 years of dedicated and exceptional service to the department and the city it serves.

Simi Valley, California, has been my home for more than 40 years. When I was first elected to the City Council, Simi Valley's public safety was entrusted to the Simi Valley Community Safety Agency. Officers rode in white cars and wore light blue uniform shirts. It was an intentionally low-key and, some might say, casual approach to law enforcement.

Not long after my election to the council, I became the city's first elected mayor. Soon thereafter, we transformed the Simi Valley Community Safety Agency into the Simi Valley Police Department. White patrol cars became traditional black and whites. Community safety officers became trained and professional police officers and dressed the part.

Arch Morgan was an integral part of that transformation into a professional police force. I have done several ride-alongs with Arch over the years—in both white cars and black and whites. He is a professional's professional and one of the most liked and respected members of the department.

Arch worked patrol for the first 5 years with the department. He also served as the department's Court Officer, field training officer, and on the department's Driving Under the Influence Team (DUI). In 1980, he was promoted to sergeant. As a sergeant, Arch worked in Patrol, Patrol Support, Youth Services, Inspection & Planning, and the Special Enforcement Detail. For the past 11½ years, he has supervised the Field Training Office Program.

Prior to his law enforcement career, Arch was a Medical Corpsman for the U.S. Army National Guard. He earned his associate of arts with a Police Science major from Moorpark College.

Sergeant Archer Raymond Morgan, Jr., epitomizes the professionalism of the Police Department he has served for more than 3 decades and on which he has left a visible possible mark.

Madam Speaker, I know my colleagues join me in thanking Arch Morgan for his dedication to the Simi Valley Police Department and the people it serves, and in wishing him well in a long and fruitful retirement.

Mr. SHIMKUS. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor the admirable accomplishment of kidney transplant recipient, Carrie Conley. Mrs. Conley won two gold and two silver medals at the U.S. Transplant Games.

In a brief statement Conley says, "I attend the games to promote organ donation and to honor my donor family, which I met in 2004 at the Louisville games." Mrs. Conley received her kidney failure gradually from polycystic kidney disease. She won gold medals in swimming and golf, and her silver medals in the 5K race and track and field.

The U.S. Transplant Games encourage athletes of all ages who have received transplants to participate in this admirable and charitable event. Carrie Conley is an inspiration to transplant recipients of all ages, and I admire her greatly for her benevolent efforts.

TRIBUTE TO JEAN HINES

HON. KENNY C. HULSHOF

OF MISSOURI

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, September 26, 2008

Mr. HULSHOF. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor a special woman who has more than left her mark on Missouri. Jean Hines, of Sullivan, has been named by Experience Works, provider of job training and employment opportunities for older Americans, as the Outstanding Older Worker from the State of Missouri. Experience Works serves over 20,000 older workers and local communities.

Ms. Hines is a resident of the Ninth Congressional District. She works as a machinist; specifically, she works in finishing operations for the Cardin Machine Shop, which makes precision machine parts for the aerospace industry for companies such as Boeing and Lockheed.

Experience Works began in the summer of 1963 when President John F. Kennedy decided to make poverty reduction a focus of his anticipated 1964 reelection campaign. Shortly thereafter, President Lyndon B. Johnson, looking to help heal a shocked Nation after President Kennedy's assassination, took the advice of several national leaders and declared war on poverty.

On October 5, 1965, President Johnson signed the Nelson Amendment to the Economics Opportunity Act, which funded the "green thumb" project of the National Farmers Union. Soon after, Green Thumb, Inc. (now Experience Works) became the first nonprofit organization whose sole function was to help provide jobs for disadvantaged rural Americans.

While the Economic Opportunity Act stalled in Congress, Lady Bird Johnson helped press the initiative forward. A proposal suggested taking "the 'green thumbs' of poor, older, and retired farmers and put them to work to beautify our highways." The First Lady said that "an opportunity is presented here to provide [older farmers] with useful employment for which they are fully qualified, and at the same time, to beautify highways for the benefit of all our people."

Over time, that program went from beautification projects in four States to a major Federal workforce initiative known as the Senior Community Service Employment Program (SCSEP), which today provides training, employment, and community service opportunities to thousands of seniors across the country.

I believe this program is an effective tool, which helps to strengthen families, communities, and our Nation by providing older workers with opportunities to learn, work, and serve others. Many of Missouri's seniors have benefited from this program.

Ms. Hines will be honored this week in Washington, DC, during National Older Workers Week. Today I want to shine a spotlight on not only Ms. Hines' achievements, but also on the vital role that older workers play in our Nation's economy. Ms. Hines' tireless commitment to her work has helped break down the barriers to hiring, training, and retaining older workers. Indeed, she is a role model for other older workers and employers. She has shown that much can be achieved and attained after the traditional retirement age. For these reasons, I am privileged to stand before this body and congratulate Ms. Hines on her receipt of this prestigious award. It is much-deserved.

HONORING MARINE CORPORAL BRADLEY J. WALKER

HON. DAVID DAVIS

OF TENNESSEE

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, September 26, 2008

Mr. DAVID DAVIS of Tennessee. Madam Speaker, I rise today to bring to the attention of the House of Representatives the story of Marine Corporal Bradley J. Walker of White Pine, Tennessee.

Corporal Walker, a proud American and proud Marine, was injured when his Humvee vehicle was hit by an improvised explosive device in Haditha, Iraq in November of 2006. As a result of his injuries, Corporal Walker had both legs amputated at the knees. Since that time, Corporal Walker has been an inspiration to all of us as he has taken to his recuperation with the same drive and determination that was the hallmark of his service with the Marine Corps.

As has always been the case, the community of White Pine rallied to the cause of Walker's family in the true "Volunteer State" spirit by transforming their home to meet Corporal Walker's new needs as well as honoring him with a parade and a declaration of "Brad Walker Day."

Corporal Walker has been an inspiration to many others as well. Recently, I had a discussion with Bert Caswell, a member of the Capitol Guide Service. Bert had met Brad at Walter Reed Medical Center and was truly moved by his story. That inspiration led Bert to write a poem that honors Corporal Walker. I enjoyed having the opportunity to read this poem and wanted to share this with the House of Representatives:

WALKING TALL

(By Albert Carey Caswell)

There's a calm before the storm . . .
Upon, battlefields of honor in hearts as worn . . .
All in souls of honor, as into the darkness their hearts of courage move on . . . where magnificence is born . . .
And when that battle is done . . .
Fine Men and Women of honor lie face down, living but their last most brilliant suns!
And then there are those ones, left behind with new battles begun . . . without arms and legs our sons . . .
As somehow their heart's must get up and walk again . . .
All in their pain and heartache, as their most splendid souls must somehow begin . . .
Telling them to get up and walk, as these inner voices of faith and courage so much has taught in the end!
Taught us all about the walk, the walk of life . . .
All in the kinds of battles we so chose to fight, all in these our darkest days of night . . .
All between dark and light, life and death . . . good and evil . . . as comes this battle, this their fine fight . . .
Is but their walk so burning bright . . .
Is but their walk of life, which brings such light . . . to everyone there so in sight . . .
Are all those steps they take, watching them . . . as all of our hearts so begin to break, all on this night . . .
And now upon this day, so seen . . .
Is but a fine United States Marine, Corporal Bradley J. Walker of Tennessee . . .
Who went off to war, who gave up his two fine legs all for our country tis of thee . . .
While, there in the face of death . . .
As he looked down to see no legs left, when he began his most heroic quest . . .
But, cheating death . . . as he began to walk . . . step by step . . . as his faith our world would bless . . .
As Brad, stands even taller on this day . . .
All in what his heart has now so conveyed, all in those new steps he has so made . . .
For Marines can do, and a heart of courage full can so teach so much too . . . all in courage's way!
All in our walk o life . . .
Will we walk tall, and with our souls so burn bright? Doing what is right!
As comes this night, Walking Tall . . . Corporal Bradley Walker this valiant knight . . .
Brad, The Toast of Tennessee . . .
One damn fine United States Marine . . .
And if I ever have a son, I but hope and pray he'd be like this one . . . Walking Tall like Bradley!

In honor of Corporal Bradley J. Walker, D Co., 4th Combat Engineer Battalion of White Pine Tennessee.

Madam Speaker, this is a fitting tribute to a fine young man who has sacrificed so much for his country, and I hope that the House will join me in honoring Corporal Walker for his service and thanking Bert Caswell for his tribute to this young man's service and sacrifice.

TRIBUTE TO LIMA COMPANY

HON. DAVID L. HOBSON

OF OHIO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, September 26, 2008

Mr. HOBSON. Madam Speaker, I request to submit this tribute in honor of the Lima Company of the 3rd Battalion, 25th Marine Regiment based in my congressional district. The piece was written by Albert Caswell.

Rest! Rest our fine sons . . . Your war is now over . . . Your battle's begun . . . There's Company in Heaven . . . There's a new force to be found . . . There's a new band of 23 brothers, of so renown . . .

There's a new winged force of Angels, warriors in the Army of our Lord now . . . There's 22 Magnificent Marines and a Corpsman, who are all out in front, moving so forth out on the prowl . . .

Heading in a divine direction, to do a battle for our Lord . . . to fight the darkness, as it's the light they so ensure! The ones who so lived and so died for each other, in the darkest times of war . . . as where their great burdens bore. Who have now come back as Angels, in this the greatest of all force . . . listen on the wind, you'll hear their voices.

Once but our bravest and brightest, who were all once champions of right . . . there our United States Marines . . . Who were the finest of all sons our nation has seen, who so bravely left all their loved ones to do what must be done! While, strength in honor was but their most magnificent of themes, but willing to die for us and give up all their dreams.

Moments on this earth are but all we so have, to make a difference, to crush hearts . . . all in our shortest of life paths. To grab hearts, from the beginning, where we so start, to stare right into the face of death with but only your fine hearts.

But for the greater good, as only they could . . . There's Company in Heaven . . . it's getting crowded up here! As the Lord our Father, welcomes these fine warriors in all of his tears!

And if I ever have a son, I but hope and pray and so wish . . . that he could but be like all of these fine ones!

Yeah, There's Company in Heaven . . . New Angels up here! Ready for this new battle which appears!

And when there comes a gentle rain . . . your sons' tears of love shall wash down upon you to so ease all of your pain . . . Until, one day up in Heaven . . . you will all so meet again! And you won't have to cry no more . . . FAOY.

INTRODUCTION OF INDEPENDENCE AT HOME ACT

HON. EDWARD J. MARKEY

OF MASSACHUSETTS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, September 26, 2008

Mr. MARKEY. Madam Speaker, I rise to introduce the Independence at Home Act. I am pleased to introduce this important legislation today with my colleagues in the House, Representatives. CHRIS SMITH (R-NJ) and RAHM EMANUEL (D-IL), and my colleagues in the Senate, Senators RON WYDEN (D-OR), BARBARA MIKULSKI (D-MD), BENJAMIN CARDIN (D-MD) and SHELDON WHITEHOUSE (D-RI).

Our legislation is designed to improve the quality of care received by a particularly vulnerable portion of the Medicare population—beneficiaries with multiple chronic and debilitating diseases, including Alzheimer's, Parkinson's, ALS, diabetes and other conditions. Medicare beneficiaries with multiple chronic conditions account for a disproportionate share of Medicare spending compared to their representation in the overall Medicare population. Specifically, CMS reports that each year, 10 percent of the Medicare population accounts for two-thirds of all Medicare fee-for-service program payments. Because this population sees an average of 13 physicians and fills about 50 prescriptions per year, beneficiaries with multiple chronic conditions often receive disjointed care from health providers, including conflicting information and multiple diagnoses for the same symptoms.

The Independence at Home Act addresses the critical needs of these patients, for whom coordinated care has the greatest potential to achieve positive results. Through the creation
